A message for you...from 1953

(Today, John Jones is just an average American, wrestling with all the doubts and worries and problems that beset every one of us right now. But let's skip ahead 10 years. Let's look at John Jones then—and listen to him . . .)

SOMETIMES I feel so good it almost scares me.

"This house—I wouldn't swap a shingle off its roof for any other house on earth. This little valley, with the pond down in the hollow at the back, is the spot I like best in all the world.

"And they're mine. I own 'em. Nobody can take 'em away from me.

"I've got a little money coming in, regularly. Not much—but enough. And I tell you, when you can go to bed every night with nothing on your mind except the fun you're going to have tomorrow—that's as near Heaven as a man gets on this earth!

"It wasn't always so.

"Back in '43—that was our second year of war, when we were really getting into it—I needed cash. Taxes were tough, and then Ellen got sick. Like almost everybody else, I was buying War Bonds through the Payroll Plan—and I figured on cashing some of them in. But sick as she was, it was Ellen who talked me out of it.

" 'Don't do it, John!' she said. 'Please don't! For the first time in our lives, we're really saving money. It's wonderful to know that every single payday we have more money put aside! John, if we can only keep up this saving, think what it can mean! Maybe someday you won't have to work. Maybe we can own a home. And oh, how good it would feel to know that we need never worry about money when we're old!'

"Well, even after she got better, I stayed away from the weekly poker game—quit dropping a little cash at the hot spots now and then—gave up some of the things a man feels he has a right to. We made clothes do—cut out fancy foods. We didn't have as much fun for a while but we paid our taxes and the doctor and—we didn't touch the War Bonds.

"We didn't touch the War Bonds then, or any other time. And I know this: The world wouldn't be such a swell place today if we had!"

FOE TODAY IS BIG

The team representing Patterson Field and facing Bowling Green State University this afternoon is doubtless the largest one that has ever appeared on the local gridiron since football was started in 1919.

The first 11 probable starters from the flying field at Dayton will average 204 pounds in weight according to the starting lineup figures from Major C. O. Stipes, head coach of the "All Stars" as they are known. The largest man on the squad is Andy Wyhowanec, 266 pound tackle from Western Reserve who is a former Detroit Lion player.

Not far behind him in weight is Lloyd "Bronco" Reese, 260 pound fullback, erstwhile Tennessee player. Around him in the backfield are three men who have had a lot of first class football experience. They are John Katchur, 190 pound quarterback who formerly played at West Virginia; Pete Lizza, 175 pound half who was a big factor in defeating Bowling Green one year when he was at Wittenberg and Dick Woodring, 185 pound halfback from Texas A. & M. Tom Hawkins, who formerly toted the pigskin for Texas University will see much service also.

Aiding Coach Stipes is a staff of experienced footballers including Major William Ferguson, assistant coach; Lt. L. B. Maplesden, line coach and PFC Vernon Thiel, backfield coach.

The All-Star line averages 206 pounds and the backfield averages 202 pounds.

OUR NEXT COLLEGE FOE

Bowling Green's next college game is away from home. The Falcons will go to Berea to play Baldwin-Wallace in a night game on October 23.

At least three of Bowling Green's squad members are pointing for that game. They are members of the Marine V-12 group which came to this campus from B-W. Don Mohr, end, Ray Getz and Stan Urban, backs, are pointing for this game.

It is believed that it will be one of the best games of the season and ought to bring out a big crowd.

NEXT WEEK'S GAME

Next week another service team comes to Bowling Green. It will be the Bunker Hill camp team from Peru, Indiana.

The strength of this team is centered around the famous Mal Kutler, an All-American back from Texas University, who is one of the finest football players that has ever played in the country.

The team is coached by Lt. Howard Kissell, former Findlay college and Muskingum coach, who is well known in Bowling Green.

A week ago the Bunker Hill and Patterson Field teams played their opening ball games of the season, facing each other. The Bunker Hill eleven won 9 to 6 in a battle of giants.

President Frank J. Prout

A TRIBUTE TO OUR PREXY

Encouraged by President Frank J. Prout, officials of the Athletic Department are planning to conduct as complete a program of intercollegiate athletics as is possible for the duration and so far have been very successful in the project.

In addition to football and cross-country the department is planning for basketball and hopes to have swimming, baseball, track and other minor sports.

Bowling Green State University is indeed fortunate in the fact that she has an administrator like President Prout. His forceful personality and ambitious outlook for Bowling Green has been a great factor in the forward progress of the institution in the past few years.

We have made rapid strides as a university since Dr. Prout's election as its administrator in 1939. Like all educational institutions, the campus has been changed since the war and our progress has temporarily halted but there is every confidence that Bowling Green State University will emerge from the acid tests of war-conditions a far better institution than before, prepared to meet the vastly greater demands that are anticipated with the return of peace.

TWO ACES IN OUR COACHING STAFF

COACH ROBERT H. WHITTAKER

As head coach of football and track Robert H. Whittaker is making a great record at Bowling Green State University just as he did at Sandusky high school. "Bob" has lost only three games on the gridiron since coming to B. G.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR HAROLD ANDERSON

Bowling Green State University's basketball is looking up under the guidance of Coach Anderson. Last year's team made a fine record in his first season at the helm here. This year "Andy" expects a fair quint.

A WORLD TITLE AT STAKE

The Falcons may carry on in battles against their friendly foes in the good old American way today, a privilege that few other countries may now enjoy, but to protect our right to continue to live our lives as we wish, we as Americans must fight a bigger and more serious foe.

We, who sit on the sidelines must buy our tickets and buy them again and again in the form of War Bonds and Stamps.

Make sure that your Army and Navy wins the biggest Victory in the world. Buy Bonds. This Bank can provide you with them at any time.

NATIONAL RACE HERE

The first national event to ever be held on the Bowling Green State University campus will take place on Saturday afternoon, October 23rd when the Fortieth Annual National Junior Cross-Country Championship run is conducted under the sponsorship of Bowling Green. The race is an annual event on the calendar of the Amateur Union of the United States.

The race is run over a distance of 10,000 meters, which is approximately six and a quarter miles and will start promptly at 1:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (slow time).

Last year the meet was run at Miami University at Oxford, O., which school won it. Bowling Green was second and Michigan Normal college was third.

Athletic Director Harold Anderson has mailed out entry blanks throughout the middlewest and hopes that many schools will have teams to enter in the meet although it is probably that one of the sports to suffer most in this period is cross-country running.

Bowling Green has a squad of runners and will enter the event and an entry has already been promised from Oberlin college.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning and second place teams. Individual medals will be given to the winners of the first three teams. A trophy will also be awarded to the individual winner.

Entries will close on October 16.

Teamwork wins battles, too!

TANKS, planes, paratroopers, infantry—it takes all, working in perfect coordination, to win battles today. Just as on the football field, it's teamwork that counts.

There is one big difference. In football, you leave the winning to others. In war, you are as much a part of the teamwork needed for Victory as pilots, bombardiers, tank crews, and foot soldiers.

Your job is to buy War Bonds, and then more War Bonds—to support our boys with the finest equipment money can buy. When you invest in War Bonds regularly every pay day—not the least, but the most you can—that is teamwork.

Remember our boys over there are counting on you to do your part. Remember, too, your War Bonds work two ways. They help win the war and provide for the peace by returning (in the case of E Bonds) $4 for $3 at maturity. This is the voluntary American way to raise the huge sums needed for Victory. Every shot—every bond—counts. Do your part—now. Teamwork wins!
